Agenda Setting

- The dynamic process by which an issue rises from obscurity (being unknown) to gain public and political attention.
 - Important pre-decision stage
 - Entering the agenda is necessary for an issue to be considered for policy action.
- How a large set of issues compete for policy attention
 - How the set/agenda of issues to be considered for policy action become limited in number.
 - Some issues may be recognized as important, but not all important issues enter onto the policy agenda.

Agenda Setting

- To consider issues, policy actors have
 - Limited time
 - Limited energy
 - Limited resources (Money, personnel...)
 - Limited amount of interest
- The issue selection process is
 - Competitive
 - Competition between beliefs, perceptions & attention
 - Not fair or just

Agenda Setting

- Three Theories of Agenda Setting
 1. Downs' Issue Attention Cycle
 2. Kingdon's Multiple Streams Theory
 3. Cobb & Elder's Systemic & Institutional Agendas
 - Interaction between two policy agendas

1. Downs' Issue Attention Cycle

ISSUE ATTENTION CYCLES (IACs)

(Anthony Downs : 1972)

1. Downs' Issue Attention Cycle

- How a private issue becomes a public issue that attracts public attention?
 - Presents the «life cycle» of issues
- Examples
 - Obesity
 - Islamic State (ISIS) Terror

Downs' Issue Attention Cycle

1. Pre-Problem Stage:

Experts and policy-makers may be aware of the problem, and knowledge may have been produced, but there is negligible public interest.

Downs' Issue Attention Cycle

2. Alarmed Discovery and Euphoric (Joyful) Enthusiasm Stage:

The issue is recognized as a problem, prompted by a disaster or positive event, which focuses concern and leads to demands for government action

Downs' Issue Attention Cycle

3.Counting the Costs and Benefits Stage:

Policy makers and the public become aware of what progress will cost.

4.Decline of public interest in issue

5.Post-Problem Stage:

The issue slips down the public agenda. New issues replace the environment in public opinion and policy agendas.

2. Kingdon's Multiple Streams Theory

2. Kingdon's Multiple Streams Theory

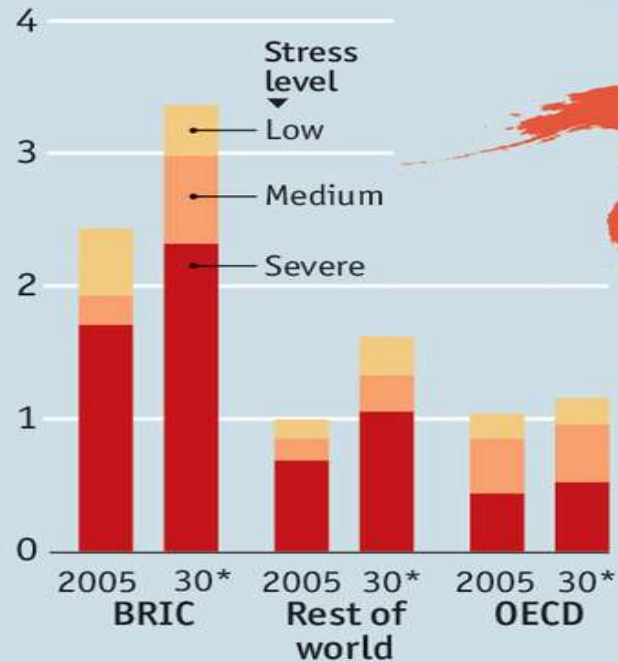

- Highlight the role of «timing» in the public policy process
- Streams
 - Problem Stream
 - Policy (Solution) Stream
 - Political Stream

Problem Stream

- Issues that policy actors focus on
 - Based on indicators, focusing events (such as a crisis or a disaster) & feedback

Water pressure

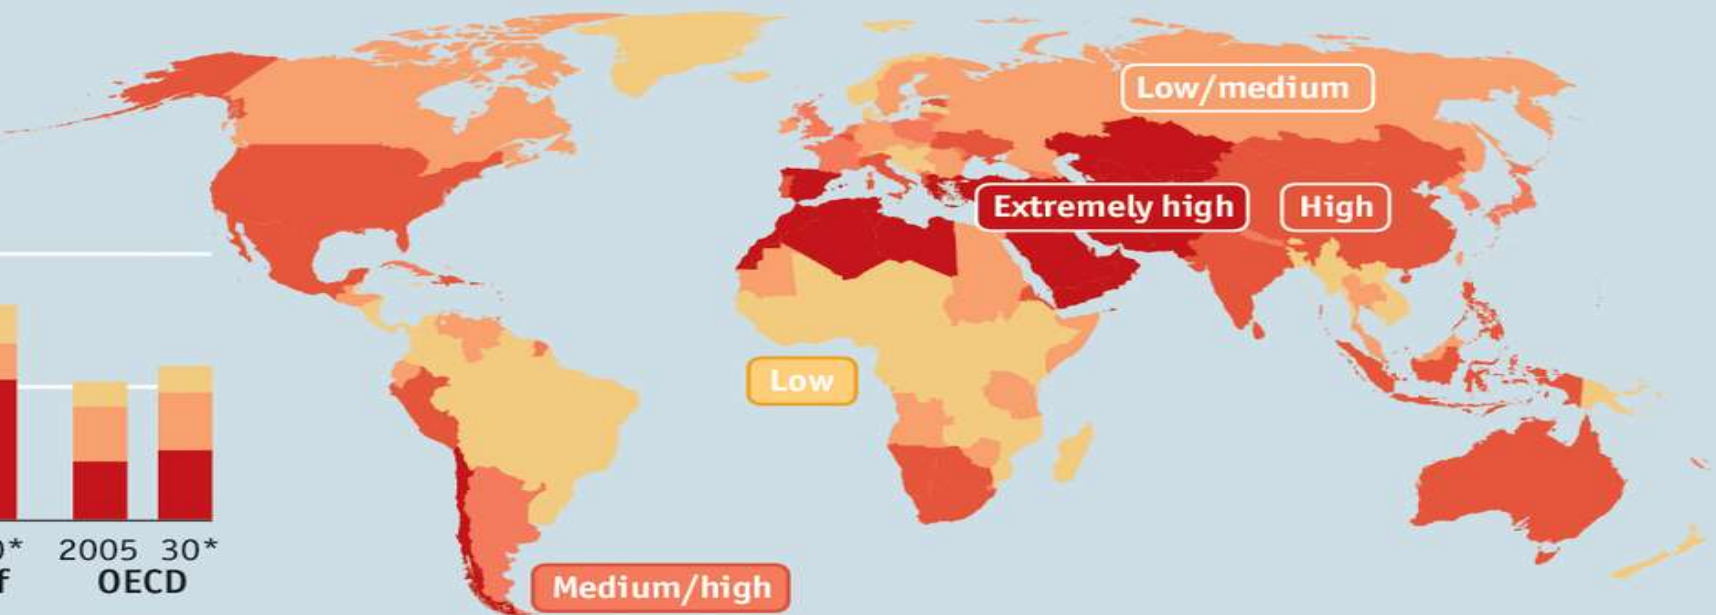

People living in areas of water stress, bn

Sources: OECD; World Resources Institute

Water stress, ratio of withdrawals to supply, 2040*, %

Below 10 10-20 20-40 40-80 Over 80

Policy Stream

- Ideas and solutions debated among policy actors & entrepreneurs
- Role of policy entrepreneurs (girişimci)
 - Expecting rewards (prestige, power, wealth...) for successful matches between problems and policies
 - Examples
 - Hayrettin Karaca (TEMA Foundation)
 - Ahmet Mete Işıkara (Deprem Dede; Grandfather Earthquake)
 - Kemal Derviş (Economic reforms)

Policy Stream

- Factors affecting the selection of policies

 - Technical feasibility
 - Manned Mars missions?
 - Value acceptance by the policy community
 - Smaller or larger role for government or the private sector?
 - Tolerable cost
 - Free Internet access to everyone?
 - Anticipated public acquiescence/support
 - Sending soldiers to Syria to fight ISIS?
 - Political acceptability
 - Accepting more Syrian immigrants to Turkey?

Political Stream

- The broad political context
 - The national mood
 - Shared concerns & interests
 - Organized political forces
 - Interest groups
 - Members of the government
 - The elected, appointed & bureaucracy

«Politicians Discussing Global Warming» Sculpture

Policy Windows of Opportunity

- Opportunities for action
 - Stay open only for short periods
- Syrian refugees example
 - A window of opportunity for Turkey's EU membership?
 - Problem: Refugees
 - Policy: Keep refugees in Turkey
 - Politics: Is it acceptable for Turkey, for the other policy actors?

3. Cobb & Elder's Systemic & Institutional Agendas

3. Cobb & Elder's Systemic & Institutional Agendas

- A potential problem: A negative effect on some segment of the society, group or individual
 - Is there a need for public action?
 - Are previous attempts to solve the problem privately failed?
 - Is the issue a crisis?
- Example: Unemployment

Systemic and Institutional Agenda (Cobb & Elder)

- Transformation of an issue into an (institutional) agenda item
- Expansion of an issue from a specifically concerned attention group to a wider interested or attentive public

Systemic and Institutional Agenda (Cobb & Elder)

■ Systemic Agenda

- All issues commonly perceived by members of a political community as meriting public attention of public authorities
- Shared concern of a sizeable portion of the public

■ Institutional Agenda

- Explicitly up for active and serious consideration by decision-makers
- May be an old item which is up for regular review or is of periodic concern; or it may be a new item.

Issue Triggers (Cobb & Elder)

- Internal Triggers

- Natural catastrophes
- Unanticipated human events
- Technological changes
- Imbalance or bias in the distribution of resources
- Ecological change

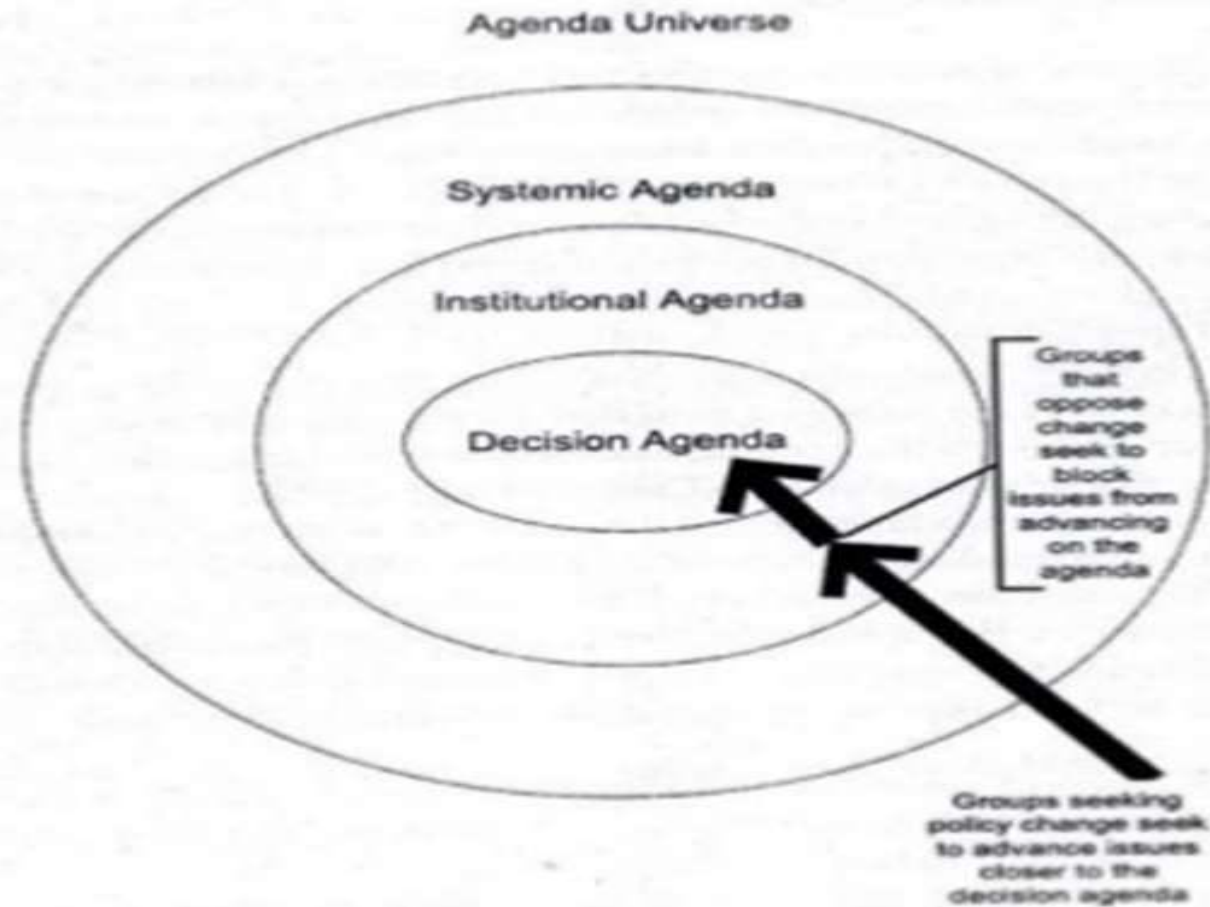

- External Triggers

- Act of war
- Innovations in weapons technology
- International conflict
- Patterns of world alignment

Ecological Change

Levels of Agenda (Thomas Birkland, 2006)

Types of Agenda

According to Cobb and Elder:

- Systematic Agenda: It refers to social problems, is general and does not have a precise definition.
- Institutional Agenda: It is more specific and concrete than the systematic agenda. (Legislative-Judiciary-Executive-Administrative-Judicial institution agendas etc.)

According to Kingdon:

- Draft Agenda: referred to as the government agenda. They are subjects that attract attention and are being studied.
- Decision agenda: The issues on which the government has agreed on the draft proposals and decided to put the issue on the agenda of the responsible decision-making body.

If you were the mayor, which issue would you transfer to the decision agenda?
