The screenshot shows the Greenpeace International website. The browser address bar displays www.greenpeace.org/international/en/. The website features a green header with the Greenpeace logo and navigation links: Home, About Us, What we do, News, Get involved, and Donate. A search bar is located in the top right. The main content area is dominated by a large image of a dense forest with the text "OUR CLIMATE DEPENDS ON FORESTS" and "SAVE THE LUNGS OF AFRICA" overlaid. On the left side, there are social media icons for Facebook (14.9K), Twitter, and a plus sign for more options (2.9K). Below the main image, there is a section titled "The latest updates" with tabs for "Blog posts", "Publications", "Press releases", and "All". A dropdown menu shows "all categories". The first update is a blog post titled "We are all deeply feeling the loss of a friend and colleague" by Patrik Eriksson, dated 18 October, 2017. The text of the post reads: "It is with heavy hearts that we can confirm that our dear friend and colleague Carolina Nyberg-Steiser, 29, from Greenpeace Nordic has died in a tragic accident in the Amazon. Carolina was traveling in a small amphibious plane...". Below this, another update titled "How green is your tech?" is partially visible. On the right side, there is a sidebar with a "Home" section containing links to "About Us", "What we do", "News", "Get involved", and "Donate". Below this is a "Get involved" section with an "Email address" input field, a "Please select country/region" dropdown menu, and an orange button.

OTTAWA – A Liberal MP is calling on the federal justice and transport ministers to develop a plan to tackle distracted driving across Canada.

Doug Eyolfson, the rookie MP for the Manitoba riding of Charleswood-St. James-Assiniboia-Headingley, has brought forward a private members' bill, Bill C-373, for personal reasons, but also because he thinks it's time to look at what more can be done to deter the practice, and

Turkish parliament to start 2018 budget debate Tuesday

By Emin Avundukluoglu

ANKARA

The parliament will begin its two-month long debate on the 2018 budget on Tuesday.

Finance Minister Naci Agbal will present the budget to the parliament's Planning and Budget Commission on Tuesday.

The commission will debate the 2018 budget until Nov. 23, which would then be referred to the general assembly where it would be discussed at the beginning of December.

The budget contains an increase in education expenditure to 134 billion liras ($37 billion), including investments of 14.3 billion liras ($3.97 billion) that comes to around 18 percent of total public investment.

Turkey is targeting 762.8 billion liras in expenditures and 696.8 billion liras in revenue in 2018, along with nearly 600 billion Turkish liras in tax revenue.

The draft has around 85 billion Turkish liras ($23.6 billion) slated for public investments, with nearly 30 percent of that going to transportation, while healthcare and agriculture would get 10 percent and 12 percent, respectively.

President

- Duties of Powers (Article 104 & 146 of the Constitution)-Some Examples
 1. Executive
 - He/she shall appoint and dismiss the deputies of the President of the Republic and the ministers.
 - He/she shall appoint and dismiss the high ranking public executives.
 2. Legislative
 - He/she shall promulgate laws.
 - He/she shall send laws back to the Parliament to be reconsidered.
 3. Judiciary
 - The President of the Republic shall appoint several members of the Supreme Court.

The president appoints and dismisses the ministers.

Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdoğan appointed new deputy ministers on Sept. 6.

Nureddin Nebati was appointed deputy treasury minister and Osman Dinçbaş deputy finance minister.

The announcement was published in the Official Gazette.

Nebati, who has a Ph.D. in political science and public administration, has been in the textile business for years.

Nebati was a ruling Justice and Development Party (AKP) deputy from the eastern province of Şanlıurfa and head of the Inter-parliamentary Jerusalem Platform.

Dinçbaş, who started his career as an audit assistant in 1984 at Ernst & Young's Istanbul office, later moved to Hartford and New York offices in the United States and worked in the U.S. for a total of three years. In 2002, he was appointed as Ernst & Young Turkey's Chief Operations Officer (COO). At the end of 2003, he was promoted as Ernst & Young Turkey general manager and held this position until the end of 2010. He served as president of Market and Business Development in 2011 and left Ernst & Young in January 2012 to set up his own business.

Dinçbaş also served as a member of the Board of Directors of International Investors Association (YASED) between 2004 and 2010 (three successive periods).

Obesity among children starting their first year of primary school has risen for the second year in a row.

Figures from NHS Digital show 9.6% of children in reception classes in 2016-17 are obese, compared with 9.3% the year before.

One-fifth of year 6 children (aged 10-11) are obese, the same as in 2015-16. The statistics for more than 1 million pupils across England show 32.4% of girls and 36.1% of boys in the final primary school year are overweight or obese, while the figures for reception are 22.1% and 23.1% respectively.

A List of Think Tanks in Turkey

Turkish think tanks provide research and ideas yet they play less important roles in policy making when compared with the American think tanks.

- 21st Century Turkey Institute; based in Ankara, undertakes research and projects on a large scale; from Turkish Foreign Policy to regional politics.
- 3H Movement is a liberal think tank and a young organization centered in Istanbul.
- Ankara Strategy Institute [1] is an Ankara based independent think-tank organization established in 2011. It is distinguished from other think-tanks.
- Association for Liberal Thinking is a libertarian think-tank centered in Ankara.
- Bahcesehir University Center for Economic and Social Research (Betam) was founded with the goal of establishing a tradition rooted in scientific research. Betam consists of two main units. In the Economic Research Unit, it focuses on the research and development of economic policy in Turkey. In the Social Sciences Research Unit, it concentrates on the cultural, social and political structure of Turkey and its international relations.
- Center For Alternative Policies or Alternatif Politikalar Merkezi (APM-CAP). Based in Ankara / TURKEY Undertakes research and projects on economic and social issues.
- Center for Eurasian Strategic Studies or Avrasya Stratejik Araştırmalar Merkezi (ASAM). The first known think-tank in Turkey. It has close ties to the Center for Armenian Research (EREN).
- Centre For Policy and Research On Turkey (Research Turkey) Established in 2012 in London, United Kingdom. www.researchturkey.org
- Center for Turkey's Economic and Strategic Studies (TESAM) is an independent think tank, established in 2008. Undertakes research and projects on Turkey's history, international relations, strategy and foreign policy as well as economic and cultural issues.
- Education Reform Initiative (ERI) was launched within Sabancı University in 2003 with the aim of improving education policy and decision-making through research, advocacy, and training. ERI mobilizes a wide range of stakeholders in participatory education policy processes in pursuit of its mission of "quality education for all." [2] Education Reform Initiative was ranked in The 2013 Global Go To Think Tank Index. See the result: [3]
- Foreign Policy Institute [4]
- Freedom Research Association is an Ankara-based policy think tank with a mission to help consolidate liberal institutions in Turkey. Recently founded, the think tank brings together distinguished political scientists, legal scholars and journalists to publish original research and make an impact on public policy. <http://ozgurulukarastirmalari.com/>
- Global Political Trends Center also known as GPoT Center is a liberal research unit at Istanbul Kultur University.
- Institute for Armenian Research or Ermeni Araştırmaları Enstitüsü (EREN). Privately funded organization, created by the Center for Eurasian Strategic Studies (ASAM).
- International Cultural Research Center (UKAM). Based in Istanbul, is a liberal think-tank specializing in conducting research on cultural and ethnic rights and politics. <http://www.ukam.org/>
- International Strategic Research Organization (USAK) is an Ankara-based liberal think tank, established in 2004. An umbrella organization with 9 research centers, it has close ties with Turkish diplomacy, military and political circles. It is sponsored by the business world and member donations.
- S.E.S.A.R. (Turkish: Siyasi, Ekonomik, Sosyal Araştırmalar ve Strateji Geliştirme Merkezi). Implicated in the Ergenekon investigation, with its chief, İsmail Yıldız, jailed. [2][3]
- SETAM - Center for Strategic Economic Social Research Established in 2010.
- S.E.T.A. Established in 2006. Close to the government. Conservative.
- Strategic Outlook Konya based think tank. Established in 2011.
- Turkish Asian Center for Strategic Studies (TACSS) [5]
- T.A.S.A.M. is Istanbul-centred and nationalist.
